I gained so many knowledge and skill to take with the help of our instructor. This has met more than my expectations. NATS has provided valuable training opportunity for the diploma holders as it helped so many apprentices to showcase their abilities and skills. Through NATS, we the diploma holders got this opportunity to be a part of this training. NATS training expanded the knowledge of our discipline and gained skills which are mostly not taught during our course of study. At the end of this training NATS also provides us with a certificate of proficiency by Govt. of India which can be registered at all employment exchange across India as valid employment experience. With a network of over 150000 employers in more than 1000 occupations, apprenticeship is developing a new generation of workers to help our nation succeed in 21st century economy. Of late, the apprenticeship in India has been picking up at a faster growth. With a target of training more than 1 lakh Graduate apprentices in Eastern Region for the year 2024-25 the main stakeholders especially the employers and the apprentices are required to put synchronized efforts.

Now, employer-led catalogue of programmes is only growing to minimize industry-wise skill gaps. From entry-level to management, apprenticeships are an investment in teams at all levels, and a transformative tool for both people and business.

Apprenticeship is an invaluable tool for up-skilling in areas that matters more to employers. They are highly effective tool to recruit and train future talent, address skill shortages and develop careers across core parts of business.
